

TABLE OF CONTENTS

LIST OF FIGURES	xi
LIST OF TABLES	xiii
1. EXECUTIVE SUMMARY AND HIGHLIGHTS	1
1.1 Unifying themes and key conclusions	1
1.1.1 Unifying themes	1
1.1.2 Key conclusions	2
1.2 Scope	2
1.3 Market scale	3
1.4 NHS in transition – drivers of reconfiguration	3
1.5 Primary medical care – NHS	3
1.5.1 Barriers to entry	3
1.5.2 Market size and trends	4
1.5.3 Corporate and multi-practice group penetration	4
1.5.4 Business models and profitability	4
1.5.5 ‘Federated’ NHS general practice as a platform for integration	5
1.5.6 Out-of-hours and urgent care	6
1.5.7 Opportunities from reconfiguration of urgent and emergency services	6
1.5.8 Primary care premises	6
1.6 Primary medical care – privately funded	7
1.6.1 Market size	7
1.6.2 Market structure	7
1.6.3 Private GP funding	7
1.7 Occupational health	7
1.7.1 Market size and trends	7
1.8 Community health services	8
1.8.1 Community health services market opening up to non-NHS providers	8
1.8.2 Market size and trends	8
1.8.3 Independent sector market penetration	9
1.8.4 Prospects for further market penetration by non-NHS providers	9
1.8.5 Community health services as a platform for integration of health and social care	9
1.9 Prison healthcare	10
1.10 Home healthcare	10
1.10.1 Funding of home healthcare	10
1.10.2 Market size	11
1.10.3 Rapid growth of home healthcare	11
1.10.4 Leading providers	11
1.11 Telehealth, telecare and disease management	11
1.11.1 Funding of telehealth and telecare	11
1.11.2 Market size	12

1.11.3	Market structure	12
1.11.4	Disease management	12
1.12	Contestable market route to NHS reconfiguration	13
1.12.1	Potential size of 'out-of-hospital' market	13
1.12.2	NHS Five Year Forward View	13
1.12.3	Capacity of independent sector to respond to NHS 'integrated pathway' tenders requiring large scale reconfiguration of services	14
1.13	Commissioning of reconfigured NHS services	15
1.13.1	Commissioning support units	15
1.13.2	Commissioning support Lead Provider Framework	15
1.13.3	Commissioning support market size	15
2.	SCOPE	17
3.	MARKET SCALE – ACTUAL AND ADDRESSABLE	19
4.	NHS IN TRANSITION – DRIVERS OF RECONFIGURATION	21
4.1	Imperative for the NHS to achieve efficiency savings	21
4.2	Shift of healthcare activity towards long term conditions	22
4.2.1	Population ageing and medical advances	22
4.2.2	Over-reliance on emergency admissions to hospital	22
4.2.3	Barriers to system change	22
4.3	Integration of health and social care	24
4.4	Technological enablers of community based healthcare	24
5.	PRIMARY MEDICAL CARE	27
5.1	Scope and background	27
5.1.1	Status of independent general practice contractors as part of the 'NHS family'	27
5.1.2	Investment opportunities in NHS general practice	28
5.1.3	Regulation of primary medical care	29
5.2	Publicly funded general practice	31
5.2.1	Coalition government reforms – primary care centralised under NHS England	31
5.2.2	Limited progress on lowering barriers to competition	32
5.2.3	GP contracts under the NHS	35
5.2.4	Government initiatives to create new primary medical care capacity	38
5.2.5	NHS expenditure on general practice	43
5.2.6	Volume of demand – GP and nurse consultations	46
5.2.7	Structure of the general practice sector – mainly a professional cottage industry	48
5.2.8	Profitability of NHS general practice	62
5.2.9	Business models for NHS general practice	64
5.2.10	Failed business models for NHS general practice	65
5.2.11	Role of GP federations/networks in driving integration of out-of-hospital services	66
5.2.12	Absence, until recently, of any focused government policy on driving integration of out-of-hospital services from general practice platforms	67

5.2.13	Projected penetration of NHS multi-practice GP groups in five years' time	69
5.2.14	Possible long term scenarios – competing GP-led integrated healthcare providers	70
5.2.15	Out-of-hours and urgent care	70
5.2.16	Primary care premises	83
5.3	Privately funded primary medical care	92
5.3.1	Political environment	92
5.3.2	Market size	93
5.3.3	Market structure	95
5.3.4	Primary medical care insurance cover – a limited source of funding	102
5.3.5	Business models – privately funded primary medical care	105
5.3.6	Professions supplementary to medicine	108
6.	OCCUPATIONAL HEALTH	111
6.1	Legislation, regulation and government policy	111
6.1.1	Legislation and regulation	111
6.1.2	Government policy	112
6.1.3	Tax incentives for occupational health	114
6.2	Market size, drivers and trends	115
6.2.1	Market size	115
6.2.2	Market drivers and trends	116
6.2.3	Key players – commercial providers of outsourced occupational health services	119
6.2.4	Profitability of outsourced occupational health service provision	124
7.	COMMUNITY HEALTH SERVICES (NHS)	127
7.1	Scope of community health services	127
7.1.1	Community health services market opening up to non-NHS providers	127
7.1.2	Transforming Community Services programme	128
7.1.3	Any Qualified Provider	128
7.1.4	Competitive tenders	130
7.1.5	Market size of community health services	130
7.1.6	Market trends in community health services	132
7.1.7	Market structure and key players	133
7.1.8	Pace of market penetration by non-NHS providers	139
7.1.9	Shortcomings in official reporting on expenditure on community health services	141
7.1.10	Community health services as a platform for integration of health and social care	142
8.	PRISON HEALTHCARE	143
8.1	Commissioning of prison healthcare	143
8.2	Market size and structure	143
9.	HOME HEALTHCARE	147
9.1	Funding of home healthcare	147
9.2	Market size and trends for home healthcare	148

9.3	Major providers of home healthcare	150
9.3.1	Profitability of home healthcare providers	153
10.	TELEHEALTH, TELE CARE AND DISEASE MANAGEMENT	155
10.1	Telehealth and telecare	155
10.1.1	Funding of telehealth and telecare	155
10.1.2	Barriers to adoption of telehealth at scale	156
10.1.3	Government promotion of telehealth and telecare, exemplars of success	157
10.1.4	Market size	158
10.1.5	Market structure	160
10.1.6	Conclusions on prospects for telehealth	164
10.2	Disease management	165
10.2.1	Disease management embryonic in the UK	165
10.2.2	Funding of disease management	166
10.2.3	Barriers to adoption of disease management programmes at scale in the UK	166
10.2.4	Government policy on disease management	166
10.2.5	Examples, and cost effectiveness, of disease management programmes in the UK	167
10.2.6	Market size and structure	169
11.	CONTESTABLE MARKET ROUTE TO RECONFIGURATION	171
11.1	Potential size of 'out-of-hospital' market	172
11.2	NHS Five Year Forward View	174
11.2.1	Radical new care delivery options	174
11.2.2	Rules governing independent providers' access to new care delivery options	175
11.2.3	Multispecialty Community Provider (MCP) model	178
11.2.4	Primary and Acute Care Systems model	179
11.2.5	Urgent and Emergency Care Networks model	180
11.2.6	Enhanced Health in Care Homes model	182
11.3	Role for Independent Sector Providers in NHS reconfiguration	183
11.3.1	Expansion of NHS outsourcing to the independent sector since April 2013	183
11.3.2	Trend towards outcomes based integrated 'whole pathway' contracts	184
11.3.3	Clinical Assessment and Treatment Services and similar models for migrating services out of acute hospitals	186
11.3.4	Capacity of independent sector to respond to NHS 'integrated pathway' tenders	188
11.4	Commissioning of reconfigured NHS services	196
11.4.1	COBIC	197
11.4.2	Commissioning support units	199
11.4.3	Commissioning support Lead Provider Framework	201
11.4.4	Commissioning support market size	202
11.4.5	Which integration platform is most favourable for independent sector providers?	202
	APPENDIX: ANALYSIS OF STATUTORY ACCOUNTS	207

LIST OF FIGURES

Figure 4.1	United Kingdom 65 years and older population, 1901–2081	23
Figure 4.2	Emergency hospital admissions	23
Figure 5.1	Breakdown of NHS GP practices by type of contract, England 2013	36
Figure 5.2	Trends in GP practices operated by limited companies, England 2009–2013	37
Figure 5.3	Trends in the profile of NHS GPs by gender and partner/salaried status England 2003–2013	39
Figure 5.4	Expenditure on NHS general practice in England, Wales, Scotland and Northern Ireland 2003–2013 (including GP dispensing costs)	43
Figure 5.5	Expenditure on NHS general practice, gross value and as value a percentage of all NHS expenditure, England 2003/04–2012/13	44
Figure 5.6	Patient reported GP and nurse consultations in general practice, England 2009–2014	47
Figure 5.7	Distribution of GP practice sizes, England 2004–2013	49
Figure 5.8	Penetration of NHS general practice by multi-practice groups with five or more GP practices or walk-in centres, by revenue England 2014	51
Figure 5.9	NHS expenditure on out-of-hours services England* 2004/05–2012/13	72
Figure 5.10	Profitability of out-of-hours providers, EBITDA as a percentage of revenue	80
Figure 5.11	NHS GP premises costs (including rent allowance for owned premises) UK 2004/05–2012/13	84
Figure 5.12	Distribution of GP premises by type (new purpose-built or not) and penetration by three major specialist property investment groups	84
Figure 5.13	Penetration of NHS general practice premises market in UK by three major specialist property investment groups: contracted annual rent (2014) as a share of NHS GP premises costs (2012/13)	86
Figure 5.14	Penetration of NHS general practice premises market in UK by three major specialist property investment groups plus NHS Property Services Ltd: asset value (2014) as a share of estimated NHS GP premises asset value (2012/13)	86
Figure 5.15	Private GP market size 2014 and share of private and public markets combined	95
Figure 6.1	Profitability of occupational health service providers, EBITDA as a percentage of revenue	125
Figure 7.1	Real terms (2012/13 prices) expenditure on NHS community health services, England 2010/11–2012/13 and trends in for-profit and not-for-profit penetration	131
Figure 7.2	Breakdown of community health service spending by type of provider, England 2012/13	137

List of Figures

Figure 8.1	Independent sector penetration of prison health care by number of registered services, England 2014	144
Figure 9.1	Home healthcare market growth, independent sector providers only UK 2002–2013	149
Figure 10.1	Addressable market size (numbers of users) for telehealth and disease management services, UK 2014	159
Figure 10.2	Estimated UK telehealth and telecare addressable and expressed market sizes, UK 2014	160
Figure 11.1	Market size of commissioning support for CCGs and other NHS commissioning bodies, England 2014	202

LIST OF TABLES

Table 3.1	Estimated value of primary medical care, community health, out-of-hospital and commissioning support markets, England, around calendar 2013	19
Table 3.2	Estimated value of hospital, care home and domiciliary social care sectors, around calendar 2013	20
Table 5.1	Estimated number of consultations at NHS GP practices, England 1995–2008	47
Table 5.2	Multi-practice groups with five or more NHS GP services or walk-in centres registered by CQC, England 2014	52
Table 5.3	Cost structure of NHS GP practices operating under GMS and PMS contracts, UK 2011/12	64
Table 5.4	Estimated market shares of leading providers of GP out-of-hours services, UK 2012/13 (excluding income from other services)	74
Table 5.5	Not-for-profit providers of out-of-hours and urgent care services	76
Table 5.6	Share of NHS GP premises market controlled by Primary Health Properties, Assura Group and Octopus Healthcare	88
Table 5.7	Private GP consultations as % of all GP consultations, Great Britain 1990–2009	94
Table 5.8	Regional distribution of private primary care services in England and distribution by borough in London	97
Table 5.9	Leading providers of private general practice services by number of locations	97
Table 6.1	Revenues of major commercial providers of occupational health services	120
Table 7.1	NHS expenditure on community health services in England 2012/13	131
Table 7.2	Major independent sector providers of community health services by revenue, England	134
Table 8.1	Expenditure on medical and psychiatric care for prisoners in the publicly run prisons in England 2003/04 to 2010/12 and estimate for 2014	144
Table 8.2	Major providers of health care in prisons and other secure institutions in England by number of CQC registered services 2014	145
Table 9.1	Major providers of home healthcare in the UK, 2014	149
Table 11.1	NHS ‘Purchase of Healthcare from non-NHS Bodies’, England 2013/14	185
Table 11.2	Independent sector providers (with health and care revenues in excess of £5 million a year) with an existing presence in NHS funded primary care, community health and out-of-hospital services: revenue, tangible assets and equity and reserves from latest published accounts	189
Table 11.3	Benefits of COBIC and challenges for implementation	200