Market Reports

Knowledge is at the heart of what we do. Our expert team author a range of market reports on all aspects of health and social care. Each market report covers market size, segmentation and trends as well as analysis of the political, economic and investment environment.

LaingBuisson produces market reports on all key health and social care market segments. Every report delivers data-driven analysis and deep contextual insight written by authors who are experts in their field. Reports covers market size, segmentation and trends, provider insights, as well as detailed analysis of the political, economic and investment environment.

For convenience and accessibility, there is the option of purchasing the underlying data in an Excel workbook alongside the market report. This allows businesses to port our unique data straight into their own analysis, whether it is support strategic planning or decision-making on asset selection.

Market reports include information on:

- Market value
- Growth and market potential
- Key market segment analysis
- Supply and demand drivers
- Major providers
- Business trends
- Investor and M&A activity
- Regulatory and legislative drivers
